Third Day's Proceedings of the Eyraud Trial.

QUITE A SCENE IN COURT.

Some Expert Testimony Furnished by Leading Physicians to Which the Prisoner Violently Objects—Contradictory Evidence—Other Events Occurring Over the Sea.

PARIS, Dec. 19.—In the trial of Michael Eyraud and Gabrielle Bompard yesterday for the murder of Gouffe, Dr. Brouardel deposed that Gabrielle was sane, though deficient in moral principle. She showed a lack of any sense of guilt for her crime. Other medical evidence was given, tending to show that the woman was susceptible to hypnotism. It was suggested that she might have been brought under Eyraud's influence by this means.

At this point Eyraud created a scene in court by angrily shouting that nothing of the kind had ever occurred, and that Gabrielle was fooling the doctors by pretending to submit to hypnotism. Dr. Voisin testified that he had hypnotized the woman, but declined on the ground of professional ethics to give the details. Dr. Lacassagne deposed that he could not say whether the fracture of Gouffe's neck was due to strangling with a cord or with the hands. The female prisoner cried out: "He was strangled by Eyraud's hands." Immediately Eyraud retorted: "He was choked with the cord that you drew around his neck."

This mutual recrimination disgusted the spectators, and there were cries of "Horrible! Let them be silent." [illegible] testified that he [illegible] the body [illegible] sack feet [illegible]. This contradicted the previous evidence to the effect that the body was found head downward in the sack, but the laborer who first found the body confirmed Eyraud's statement.

Jew Haters [illegible].

VIENNA, Dec. 19.—The Jew haters or anti-Semites in the municipal council are irritated by the version with which the majority of the council regard their policy, and are endeavoring to obstruct the business by preventing the election of an assistant burgomaster, and thereby compelling some concessions. In order to accomplish this, they absent themselves and prevent a quorum.

The Terrorists.

PARIS, Dec. 19.—In an interview yesterday the Russian [illegible] Lavroff, says that the Terrorist party still exists. Instead, however, of being as formerly a single and compact body, responsible to and directed by an executive committee, it is now divided into twenty-five groups, each maintaining separate organization, and each working by different methods to the same end.

Quarreling Lawmakers.

ROME, Dec. 19.—In the course of a personal quarrel in the chamber of deputies yesterday Signor Sonnino struck and knocked down Signor [illegible], recently elected president of the bureau. Later Signor Sonnino received a challenge from Signor [illegible] to fight a duel. The challenge was promptly accepted and a meeting is expected to take place soon.

Two Meetings at the Same Time.

DUBLIN, Dec. 19.—At Johnston yesterday, the McCarthyites held a meeting which was addressed by Mr. Healy. The Parnellites held a meeting at the same time and place. At Urlingford, Sir John Pope Hennessy, the McCarthyite candidate, made a speech.

CONSUMPTION CURE.

Two Michigan Physicians Make Such an Announcement.

DETROIT, Dec. 19.—Two of the foremost physicians of Michigan announced yesterday that they have discovered a consumption cure, whose efficacy is beyond question. The medical men who have thus distinguished themselves are Dr. E. L. Shurley, principal physician of the Harper hospital, and Dr. Heneage Gibbs, of the Michigan university of Ann Arbor.

For over a year these two doctors have bent all their energies to the discovery of a cure and not until yesterday, when the success of their labors was beyond a doubt, did they announce it. The theory upon which this work has been carried on does not harmonize with that advanced by Dr. Koch.

The hospital has spent $[illegible] in perfecting arrangements for the cure, and success at last seems to have been reached. A dozen [illegible] the efficacy of the treatment. The most marvelous feature is the cure of Miss Jackson, of Windsor, who was taken to the hospital in a dying condition in an ambulance seven weeks ago, and yesterday, [illegible] walked two miles to her home, apparently restored [illegible]. Drs. Shurley and Gibbs stand high in the profession.

ON A CURVE.

An Express Train Derailed on the Intercolonial Railway.

QUEBEC, Dec. 19.—The express train from Halifax on the Intercolonial railway which was due at Levis at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, met with a frightful accident about three miles from its destination. The scene of the wreck is an embankment at St. Joseph. The train was made up of a baggage car, mail car, one second class, one first class, and one sleeping car. It was running at a high speed, and after passing the St. Joseph station the second class car seems to have jumped the track at the end of the station siding on a curve, and to have dragged the first class car and the sleeper with it, and also to have derailed the mail car and baggage car ahead of it.

The three passenger cars ran diagonally along the embankment for 100 yards, the second class car striking the western abutment of the bridge which carried the track over the public highway at this point. It was in this car that the sacrifice of life occurred, the front of the car being smashed to atoms against the solid stone abutments. The three cars turned over, the first-class car being badly shattered. After passing the bridge the mail car went down the embankment, having apparently turned completely over in its descent. As soon as the news of the disaster reached the city a number of physicians crossed the river and went down on a special train to the scene of the disaster.

The dead are five in number. Their names are: [illegible], Garvin, Blais, Le Claire and Winner. The latter was news agent on the road. The conductor, Walker, was badly hurt, and very few of the passengers escaped without more or less injury. One has both legs broken, another a fracture on the skull, and all are cut and bruised. But it was too late at this hour to get a reliable list of the names.

THEIR OWN GRANDSON.

Confession of a Young School Teacher That He Assaulted an Aged Couple.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Dec. 19.—Lincoln Gosset, a grandson of his victims, is in jail here for the burglary and assault upon the old couple, [illegible] and wife, at Honey creek last Friday night. He had been working at Elwood, where he had become deeply involved, and, knowing that the old people had money, walked all the way to their home from Elwood, a distance of forty miles, to get the wealth and all the way back after committing the robbery.

The old lady recognized him in her room and told his father, who is a United Brethren minister, and the latter at once began to hunt the matter down. He confronted the young man with the facts and he broke down and confessed all, stating that this was his third attempt to rob the old people.

The father brought him here this evening and turned him over to the authorities. Young Gosset has taught school in this county for several years, and has heretofore borne a good reputation.

BURNED SHOES.

A Big Manufactory of a Massachusetts Firm Burned.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Dec. 19.—The large five-story brick shoe manufactory belonging to Currier & Son, 116 Phoenix street, was destroyed this morning and the contents were either burned or ruined by water.

The occupants and their losses are: Webster & Eager, shoe factory, $3,000; W. W. ### Murdered His Mistress.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—John McMahon yesterday afternoon quarreled with the woman with whom he has been living for a year past and shot her, the bullet entering her right side and passing entirely through her body. McMahon keeps a cigar store at New Market and Wilmer streets. After the shooting he locked up the place and walked away, and the police has not yet found him. Passers by were attracted by the woman's groans and the police broke open the door. At the hospital she gave her name as Mary McMahon, but this is not her name, as she is known to have a husband living. The physicians say she will die in a few hours.

Quarreled With Her Lover.

DENVER, Dec. 19.—Nellie Webb, a courtesan living at No. [illegible] Twenty-first street, took a dose of morphine yesterday afternoon and is not expected to survive. She came to this city about eighteen months ago from Omaha and was accompanied by her 6-year-old daughter. The woman had a quarrel with her lover a few days ago which is assumed as the cause for attempting to take her own life. Her [illegible] friends [illegible] as [illegible].

THE HOLIDAY MAIL.

An Order Sent Out to All Postmasters.

WHAT CAN BE DEPENDED UPON.

The Postmaster General Gives Some Instructions in Relation to Sending Christmas Presents—Proceedings of the House and Senate—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Postmaster General Wanamaker yesterday sent the following explanatory notice to all postmasters: "The great increase in post-office work incident to the holiday season calls for the utmost diligence on the part of yourself and assistants to meet satisfactorily the demands of the patrons of your office.

The department is precluded from giving assistance in the shape of extra allowances for clerks, but desires, none the less, to encourage the public to rely fully upon the prompt dispatch of all matter intrusted to your care, and to depend implicitly upon its prompt and safe delivery. The manner in which the vast accumulation of postal matter was handled during the last holiday season and the marked decrease in losses reported, are worthy of much commendation. I confidently look for even better results this year, and to that end earnestly invoke the best thought and endeavor of yourself and those employed in your office."

Bulletin on Education.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The census office has in press a preliminary bulletin on education prepared by James H. Blodgett, who was connected in a similar capacity with the tenth census. The investigation contemplated the treatment of schools in three groups according to the mode of support: public, private and parochial, the latter in the sense of subdivision of private schools. The attendance of public schools statistics of Louisiana, New Hampshire and Wisconsin are given by counties in this bulletin, showing the sex, the pupils and teachers, and in the case of Louisiana the sex and color. In the past ten years the increase in population for these states has been: Louisiana, 19.01 per cent.; New Hampshire, 8.51 per cent.; Wisconsin, [illegible] per cent.

The changes in public schools enrollment in the same period have been: Louisiana, gain 56.02 per cent.; New Hampshire, loss 7.51 per cent.; Wisconsin, gain [illegible] per cent. The imperfect results of the inquiry regarding private and parochial schools Nov. 1 in each state here reported, show a large attendance of pupils, especially in Wisconsin, where the figures justify the claims made by religious bodies maintaining parochial schools. In Wisconsin there has been reported 31,000 Catholics schools, 22,000 Lutheran, more than [illegible],000 Evangelical and less numbers in other parochial schools.

Senate and House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The senate yesterday passed a resolution calling for a report from the fish commission on the proposed fish hatchery in northern New York. Bill to terminate reduction in number of engineer corps of the navy was passed. Bill to define certain treaty stipulations was debated and then placed on the calendar. Speeches on the election bill were made by Messrs. Coke, Cullom, Cockrell and Bate. A number of building bills and private relief measures were passed.

The house passed the following senate bills: To bridge the Green and Barren rivers, Kentucky; to provide for taking depositions in inter-state commerce hearings; authorizing Albany, Ore., to bridge the Willamette river; authorizing Humphreys county, Tenn., to bridge the Duck river. The shipping bill was debated at length, but went over without action.

Estimates Laid Before the House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The speaker laid before the house yesterday a letter from the secretary of the treasury, transmitting a communication from the secretary of the interior, submitting an estimate of $[illegible] for the construction of agency buildings at the new site on the Missouri river for the Cheyenne agency, South Dakota; also an estimate of $[illegible] for the construction of agency and school buildings at a point on the Missouri near Crow Creek agency.

BELEAGUERED.

Ranchers Implore Help Against Surrounding Indians.

DENVER, Dec. 19.—A report from Cheyenne river says: A courier is just in and has aroused the camp. He states that a party of fifteen men are besieged five miles from here, on Spring creek, at Daly's ranch. The Indians have made three attempts to fire the ranch, one of which was nearly successful.

One of the occupants is the Hon. H. M. Day, aide-de-camp to the governor of the state. The courier who brings the news had to make a break through the Indians, firing both pistols right and left. One of their bullets penetrated his overcoat. He rode by a circuitous route to our camp. Gen. Carr has sent Maj. Tupper with one hundred men to the rescue. Should the command meet these Indians they will make short work of them.

Another special said: Maj. Perry's command arrived early Wednesday morning and the scout, Gus Craven, reported that near Smithville a large number of Indians were found in a small creek in the brakes, a number of shots being exchanged while some of the government wagons were crossing Spring creek. They and escort were attacked by about forty Indians, and one hundred shots were exchanged. One soldier was wounded and another shot through the hat.

A troop of Capt. Wells' cavalry came to their rescue but the Indians seeing which, ran away. Yesterday Gen. Carr sent a troop of cavalry up into the Bad Lands to watch the movements of the hostiles. They reported about seventy tepees being seen in the Indian stronghold and totally inaccessible.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

Cavalry and Scouts on the Trail of the Indians.

DICKINSON, N. Dak., Dec. 19.—A courier arrived here late last evening with news from Capt. Fountain's command, the Eighth cavalry. The regulars left this point shortly after sunrise yesterday morning with rations sufficient to last until Saturday. The troops met no red men yesterday, and camped last night on the banks of the Cannon Ball river, near New England City.

Teamsters from the south report that the Indians are encamped at White Buttes. It is evident they are preparing for a flight across the country to the British possessions, in the hope that they will not be molested there. The cavalry moved southward at daybreak yesterday, and hope to intercept the savages before nightfall.

They are about fifty miles away. A detachment of infantry was ordered to march this morning. It will take a train westward annd guard all the passes along the Little Missouri through which the reds would be likely to make an attempt to escape. The fugitive Indians from the Grand river camp are being pursued by Lieut. Casey's Cheyenne scouts.

A Pine Ridge Special.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 19.—A Pine Ridge special says: The military yesterday counted the returned recalcitrants and issued rations to them. There were 1,034. A grand council was held. Red Cloud told them that his heart was broken. They had caused a deal of trouble and now their stock was here eating grass (a very serious thing at present, there being so much stock here) and they were eating his rations; but he was willing to give the grass and rations. He would count it nothing if the trouble could be settled.

If those who were out would not come in the soldiers were forced to kill them, he should feel sorry, for they were his relatives, but he must say it was just. A fight seems imminent, the hostiles are in the Bad Lands about sixty miles to the northwest. There are not more than 500 fighting men. Gen. Carr is close in their rear and their case is hopeless. Gen. Brooke has exercised the greatest patience and seems determined to exhaust every peaceful means of settlement before an advance is made. One company of Indian scouts under Lieut. Preston left camp to-day for Rapid City. It is also rumored that the hostiles have moved their camp.

That Chicago Bank Failure.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—President Kean and Cashier George B. Warne, of the defunct bank of S. A. Kean & Company were arrested late yesterday afternoon charged with receiving deposits when they knew the bank was in an insolvent condition. Subsequently they were liberated on furnishing bail in the sum of $[illegible] each. The case will come up for hearing Dec. 27. A rough statement of the liabilities and assets of the suspended bank shows: Liabilities due depositors, $[illegible]; money due on bonds, $[illegible]. Total, $[illegible]. ## OHIO STATE NEWS.

ONLY TWO PRISONERS HANGED.

Elmer Sharkey and Henry Popp Executed in the Penitentiary Annex—Isaac Smith Granted a Reprieve by the Governor. Various Other State Dispatches.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 19.—Elmer Sharkey and Henry Popp were executed by hanging in the annex of the Ohio penitentiary shortly after midnight. Sharkey was the first to go, and contrary to expectation, he did not weaken. He stepped on the scaffold at 12:05 and sixteen minutes later was pronounced dead. His neck was not broken and death resulted from strangulation. He made no confession nor statement from the gallows, simply saying "I will answer to God for what I have done and forgive all."

Eight minutes after Sharkey was pronounced dead, his body had been removed, and the scaffold prepared for Popp, who stepped out from the death cell at 1:2?. In less than one minute his arms and legs had been pinioned, the black cap and rope adjusted, and the lever pulled, which launched him into eternity. His neck was broken by the fall and he died without a struggle.

Yesterday afternoon Governor Campbell respited Isaac Smith, who was to have been hanged in the penitentiary last night. This is the eighth time that Smith has been respited since his conviction. The evidence which convicted him was entirely circumstantial, and there is grave doubts of his guilt.

The announcement that Governor Campbell had respited Isaac Smith until March 20, 1891, caused as much of a sensation as the double hanging. Some admire the governor's action, while others denounce him bitterly.

The crime for which Sharkey died is as follows: While Sharkey's mother was lying in bed in January, 1889, he beat her on the head with a maul until she was dead. Later in the night he appeared at a neighbor's house in an apparently dazed condition, and stated that burglars had attacked the house and he feared had killed his mother. An examination of the house showed that several windows had been broken in, as though by burglars. The bloody maul was found on the porch covered with brains and gray hair from the murdered woman's head. Many minor circumstances seemed to point to Sharkey himself as the murderer, and he was arrested.

Pending the coroner's inquest he confessed having committed the crime, but declared afterwards that this confession had been extorted from him through fear. A plea of epileptic insanity was urged in his behalf, but he was convicted before the courts of the different counties, and the supreme court of the state, the state board of pardons and the governor have all passed adversely upon this case. He was 22 years old at the time of the crime. His motive, it was alleged, was a fear that his mother would disinherit him if he should marry a young lady to whom he was engaged.

Henry Popp killed a saloon keeper at Canton, O. He had been assisting in some work about the saloon in return for which the saloon keeper gave him sufficient liquor to make him drunk. He then became noisy and was ejected. Returning after a short time he was again put out. He then came back and fatally stabbed the saloonist. At the trial his guilt was admitted, but the plea of intoxication and the extenuating circumstances urged against the infliction of the death penalty.

And Attempted Murder When His Wages Were Garnished.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 19.—Ed Doerting, a saloonkeeper at Clay and Marshall, and his wife were shot by George Eaha, a young man employed at Weissinger & Bates' tobacco factory Wednesday afternoon. The husband is dangerously and the wife painfully injured. Eaha had for some time been running a bill at Doerting's saloon. A few days ago the saloonkeeper garnished Eaha's wages. The young man became enraged at this and Wednesday morning, instead of going to work, he filled up on bad whisky and securing a revolver went to the saloon with the avowed intention of killing Doerting. He had no sooner entered the saloon than he fired, the bullet entering the saloonkeeper's left breast. At this juncture Doerting's wife rushed into the saloon, and Eaha deliberately fired at her. The bullet crushed the woman's hand. Eaha then leveled his pistol at Doerting's mother-in-law, who had followed her daughter into the saloon, but was disarmed and placed under arrest before he could fire. Doerting's condition is critical.

Fishing schooner Glad Tidings is ashore at Fort Beach. A schooner is ashore at Ferry Slip; schooner City Point is ashore on Long Island and schooner Eva Race is ashore at Harpswell. This morning several rockets were fired by a vessel in distress off the cape. Nothing can yet be learned of the identity of the vessel. ### Worked a Skin Game to Death.

OGDEN, Utah, Dec. 19.—A row occurred early this morning in a saloon kept by Samuel Harris, resulting in Harris getting shot through the bowels. It seems that Harris has a wine room in the rear of his saloon, where two gamblers were working a skin game on a tenderfoot. Harris came in and objected, saying their work was too clumsey and he would not allow any such work in his house. The result was that one of the gamblers named Evans shot him. The wound is fatal. Evans cannot be found.

ALABAMA MINERS' STRIKE.

Iron and Steel Workers Take a Hand. Business Interference Threatened.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 19.—The coal miners' strike assumed a serious turn Wednesday, and one that threatens to close every industry in this district. The members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers held a meeting and passed resolutions of sympathy, and pledged support of the strikers. They agree to refuse to work with coal mined by convicts or scab miners if the strikers ask them to do so.

Pat. McBride, of the executive board of United Mine Workers of America, arrived here from Detroit Tuesday night to look into the strike. He says if he cannot settle it he will call out all the iron and steel workers. This means the closing down of all the rolling mills, foundries and machine shops, and 3,000 or more men will join the ranks of the strikers. The strike has already seriously injured business, and there seems no prospect of a settlement.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

"I have been practicing medicine for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectually move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."

THE Toledo Blade makes a [illegible] when it says that reciprocity is very popular with everybody just now [illegible] after Christmas.

It is argued that Uncle Sam should let the red men dance if they want to, that the white people dance all they please. But this doesn't hold good. There is a constant opposition to terpsichorean diversion, though the young people continue to dance as they please.

THERE are a good many people [illegible] paying interest in the country. The census returns show that the mortgage indebtedness of this country is [illegible]. It is probable, too, that the census figures are too low. But this would be nothing to the figures if the government were to loan money at a rate of 2 per cent.

OVER at Kenton a citizen, out of curiosity, weighed himself on more than twenty scales about the city and found them to vary from one to four pounds. This is evidence that all scales are not perfectly reliable. Ernest Zachman should go on the rounds again in Marion. The sealer should insist on the council paying for his services, too. There is no use of having a careful official unless his valued services are given substantial appreciation.

IT seems that there has been a good deal of confusion over this Farmers' Alliance. Most people have thought the southern convention to be national, but Joshua Crawford, a man standing high in the counsels of the Ohio Alliance, says that was the convention of the Southern or secret Alliance, that the Northern Alliance will hold its national convention in Omaha in January. This comes in the nature of an explanation of the Ocala convention's resolutions on the Lodge election bill.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers the California Fig Syrup Company.

What Good Clothes Will Do.

The proprietors of an uptown clothing store have adopted a novel method of soliciting trade. They have hired a man who has long been familiar to everyone in their neighborhood as a ruined, disreputable [illegible] fellow, clothed him in a handsome fall dress suit, furnished him with a beaver, a nicely laundered shirt and everything else that a man accustomed to dress well would possibly need, and turned him loose to distribute neat advertising cards about the neighborhood. He usually wears some fresh flowers pinned to the lapel of his coat, [illegible] his [illegible] known [illegible] clothing will do.—New York Tribune.

With the Elks.

After the regular routine business had been passed over Thursday evening the Elks adjourned to a social session, in which J. L. Kellogg, the mind reader, was the leading feature. Mr. Kellogg first entertained the company with card and ring tricks and other feats of high art legerdemain, which not only entertained the Elks but made new admirers for the mysterious Kellogg. He then selected a committee, who went down on the street and wrote L. Denison's name on a piece of paper, sealed it in an envelope and went back to the hall where Kellogg was waiting for them. He was then blindfolded and the letter given him. He took one member of the committee by the hand, led him down stairs and straight to L. Denison's store, which was full of customers, walked half the length of the store, turned and went back of the counter and handed Mr. Denison the letter. He was blindfolded all this time and had not met any of the committee until that evening and did not speak to them after they had written the name which was placed in the envelope.

It was a very enjoyable entertainment given the Elks, and all hope that Mr. Kellogg will meet with them again. More than that they can guarantee an [illegible] at Music Hall to-night.

G. A. R. Resolutions.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Commander of the universe to remove from our midst our late comrade, Rebander May, and

WHEREAS, It is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be made; Therefore be it

RESOLVED, By Cooper Post, No. 117, G. A. R., that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our comrade who has been taken from us.

RESOLVED, That in the death of Rebander May the survivors of the late war and of the Mexican war lament the loss of a comrade, whose devotion to the Union and whose services as a soldier merit the approval of every surviving comrade—a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

RESOLVED, That the heartfelt sympathy of the Post be extended to his family in their affliction.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread on the records of the Post and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of the deceased comrade, and to each of the newspapers of Marion.

James Reilly, "The Broommaker."

(Evansville Tribune.)

"The audience that greeted the young German comedian and vocalist, James Reilly, as Johann, in his comedy drama of the 'Broommaker,' was enthusiastic and numerous. Mr. Reilly was repeatedly and energetically encored for his fine rendering of the many songs which are interspersed in the play. The play itself is an interesting one, and introduces many new and original characters, incidents and scenes, novel and amusing. The company is an effective one, most noticeable being the two child actors, Robbie and Etta, whose remarkable precocity cannot be excelled by any juvenile prodigies on the stage. As Johann, Reilly is a [illegible] of Joe Emmet as regards stage presence, voice and action, and he is the advantage of [illegible] as the [illegible] 'The Broommaker' [illegible] interesting and amusing [illegible] advertised [illegible]

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, according to [illegible] made at the recent convention [illegible] 14,000 members, an increase of 600 during the past year.

The Chicago, Paxton and Cayuga Railway [illegible] formed with $4[illegible] capital stock. It is proposed to build a road from Paxton, Ford county, Ills., to Cayuga, Ind.

In less than three years a pleasure trip from the heart of the United States to the heart of Africa by railway and steamer all the way will not only be possible, but will probably be a common event.

Sixty years ago railroads were unknown in the United States and the population consisted of 13,000,000; today there are upward of 165,000 miles of railroad and the population has increased to 65,000,000.

Air brakes are not only coming into general use on freight trains, but have even been introduced on street cars in Chicago, taking the place of the old brake which stops the car by winding a chain around the crank rod.

Russia undoubtedly will carry out the gigantic undertaking of continuing her railway system now terminating near the eastern border of Europe through Asia, across the wilderness of Siberia to the Pacific ocean at Vladivostok.

An electric railway 186 miles long is about to be opened in South America, connecting Buenos Ayres with Montevideo. This, however, is not a surface road but an overland "telpherage line," and its object is to carry letter boxes between the two cities.

Four direct lines now divide the business between Chicago and Omaha, and it is stated that the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City company has definitely decided to build an extension from Des Moines to the latter point, thus making the fifth direct line from Chicago thither.

The locomotive and car builders are overrun with orders and the new equipment constructed during the present year will be remarkable in quantity, as well as of a generally improved quality. One western railway company alone is adding 150 locomotives and 3,000 freight cars.

Two Baptist missionaries are to make a tour of the northwest over the Northern Pacific system. The car in which they travel is 60 feet long and 10 feet wide and is furnished as a chapel. Services will be held in it. The American Baptist Publication society is behind the enterprise.

An eastern railroad is replacing the hand signal lamps on some of its divisions with a [illegible] lamp placed on a post near the tracks. It has a large convex glass front, something like a headlight, and it is equipped with a series of red and green glass slides, which can be slipped in a moment by the flagman.

Adrien Poirot, the dean of engine drivers in France, has had the cross of the Legion of Honor awarded to him by M. Carnot for long and meritorious service. In 1843 this veteran drove the first locomotive made in France over the line from St. Etienne to [illegible]. Poirot, who is 75 years of age, has had forty-eight years of engine driving.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

A new gun has been perfected by Sig. Gudelli, of Lucca, which will fire sixty-four shots a minute.

England's military garrison in Ireland is numerically larger than the regular army of the United States.

The Dutch government has ordered Ellis' compound armor plates for two new battle ships building at Amsterdam.

The second class British cruiser Sirius was launched recently at Elswick, as was also the second class British cruiser Terpsichore at Clydebank.

The form of the new German armored vessel Siegfried is very peculiar, giving her the appearance of a gigantic fish, yet she is said to have made sixteen knots.

The military authorities at St. Petersburg have decreed that in future foreigners shall not be allowed to serve in the army unless they are willing to become Russian citizens.

The new law of France which compels [illegible] students to serve in the army has been put in force. A batch of eighty-seven young seminarists of the Order of St. Lazarus recently left Paris to serve as soldiers.

During the recent maneuvers of the Italian fleet in the Mediterranean some very successful experiments are reported to have been made in the employment of carrier pigeons for communication with the mainland.

By the recent launch of the protected cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth at Pola an important addition will shortly be made to the strength of the Austrian navy. This ship is a somewhat improved type of the Franz Josef, which was launched in May of last year.

The British admiralty has decided to [illegible] hereafter a greater proportion [illegible] for British war ships at the Portsmouth and Chatham yards. It is [illegible] of [illegible] vessels authorized under [illegible] naval policy have been [illegible] government establishments.

How to Ask and Have.

"Oh! 'tis time I should talk to your mother,
Sweet Mary," says I.
"Oh! don't talk to my mother," says Mary,
Beginning to cry:
"For my mother says men are deceivers,
And never, I know, will consent;
She says girls in a hurry who marry
At leisure repent."

"Then, suppose I should talk to your father,
Sweet Mary," says I.
"Oh! don't talk to my father," says Mary,
Beginning to [illegible]
"For my father he loves me so dearly
He'll never consent I should go—

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her one more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for fifteen minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed and slept good for the remainder of the night. She got the croup the second night and I gave the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not knowing the true merits of this wonderful medicine. CHARLES A. THOMPSEN, Des Moines, Iowa. 50 cent bottles for sale by Flocken & Co., druggists.

Biliousness.

We have tested its virtues, personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. We have tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, but none of them gave us more than temporary relief; the Regulator not only relieved but cured us.—H. H. JONES, Ed. Telegraph and Messenger, Macon, Ga.

Let Christmas Stand for Pleasure.

Christmas is the preacher who emphasizes the fact that the religion which it celebrates is adapted to human nature. Horace is called the laureate of the worldly, of the epicurean, of the pagan who would eat and drink in view of to-morrow. The gay adage dum vivimus is cited with a shudder as the gospel of pleasure. Christmas was hunted in the Puritan parliament as a kind of god of pleasure who was only a masked devil. It was confounded by Governor Bradford with the belly god. But why, said Charles Wesley, as he sweetly sang—why give all the good tunes to Satan? The sweet singer might have enlarged his view and his question. Why give Satan any of the good things? Why, above all, let him have Christmas, as Andromeda was abandoned to the dragon of the sea? Let Christmas stand for pleasure and for the reason that it is especially the Christian day. Then Christianity drops her weeds and smiles.—Harper's.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

HE WAS [illegible]

[illegible]

A [illegible] it [illegible] giving it [illegible] illustration of a woman's [illegible] who told the story [illegible] names of the [illegible] but owing to [illegible] into [illegible] of the tale it would [illegible] fair to mention the names. Suffice it to say that one was an actor and the other an actress, and both very well known to the public. So call the actor Y—— because that is about as far as one can get from his name, and the actress Miss A—— because her name is [illegible] that letter.

Miss A—— was [illegible] the most prominent character in the piece, was also the stage manager, and it was she who regulated Mr. Y——'s salary.

Now Y—— had been contending that his salary was not one-half what it should be, and Miss A—— declared as firmly that this was neither here nor there, for the salary would remain the same. This condition of affairs did not make the two love each other as good Christians are expected to do. Such scenes as these behind the wings of course became frequent:

"When are you going to raise my salary?"

"Never."

"All right, then. I leave you to-morrow."

"Very well, why don't you?"

Or the war might be varied to this form:

"Are you going to raise my salary this week?"

"No."

"Next week?"

"No."

"When?"

"Never."

That determined "never" was a disagreeable check to argument. Finally Y—— worked out a scheme. In the play [illegible] in one act [illegible] the noble hero carried Miss A—— from a top story [illegible] and down a ladder. One night when this scene came on [illegible] the first round of the ladder [illegible] his arms [illegible] Put [illegible] vigorous [illegible] stopped.

"Now," he whispered in her ear, "raise my salary."

"Never."

"Raise my salary or I drop you."

Here was a crisis. Two things were in danger—the success of the scene and the actress' bones.

"Raise my salary or I drop you." The "house" was waiting. Miss A—— closed her eyes.

"Never!" she said, and he carried her safely down the ladder.—New York Tribune.

FIRE ALARM TALK.

The City Council Makes a Specialty of the Subject—Other Business Disposed of.

The mayor and clerk and all members of the city council were present at the adjourned session Thursday evening, and the business opened up by street and alley committee reports, as usual.

The chairman of the committe asked for further time on the Leader street extension matter, which was granted. He made a report on the north Main street improvement, announcing its final completion and recommending that the amounts due the contractors and sub-contractors be paid. Accordingly the bill of David Kelly, amounting to $496.60, was ordered paid on motion, as was also that of Norris & Christian, amounting to $114.97.

An ordinance establishing a grade on Gurley avenue was read and adopted.

The committe on accounts reported a number of bills, which were paid.

A petition from Center street property owners, asking for a sewer, was read and on motion referred to the sewer committee.

The mayor appointed John Cocherel as watchman for the Greenwood street crossing, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rolland May. The appointment was confirmed by five affirmative votes.

The question of the purchase of a fire alarm system was considerably discussed. Chief Fies was present and made a report upon the matter, recommending the Gamewell system. After some discussion the report was received and ordered spread upon the minutes, with the understanding that the report was in no way to influence the purchase of a system. After a great deal of desultory talk Fairbanks got the body down to business by making a motion to receive bids for a first-class, automatic, non-interfering, four circuit system of fire alarm, and also a central station system. Messrs. Chandlee and Whitacre, representing the Gamewell and Gaynor systems respectively, were present, and with their suggestions specifications were adopted into the motion, which was carried with but one dissenting vote. The bids are to be filed by January 1st, the council reserving the right to reject any or all bids.

Council adjourned without day.

The Masonic Row at Bucyrus.

When the Cerneau Masons established a Consistory at Bucyrus, says a dispatch from there, the Grand Lodge of Masons of the state pronounced Cerneauism as illegitimate Masonry, and because the Cerneau Masons declined to withdraw from the Cerneau order of Masonry the Grand Lodge took away the charters of the Bucyrus and Crawford Masonic lodges. The matter then, about two years' ago, went into the courts. The Cerneau Masons enjoined the Grand Lodge from taking away the charters, and further enjoined the Masons who were anti-Cerneau from establishing a new lodge of Masons here that recognized the Grand Lodge. The regular Masons demurred to the court sustaining the injunction. The court Monday afternoon, Judge Smalley on the bench, overruled the demurrer, with leave to Lewis Stremmel in one case and Geo. McNeal in the other to answer instanter, and the others to answer by January 3.

Clement's

Place of business is one that should be visited by all who are desirous of purchasing candies, fruits and nuts.

He has received for the holiday trade a complete and elegant stock of fine candies, choice confections, fancy boxes, great display of tropical fruits, delicious nuts and myriads of sweetmeats that are everywhere neatly and cleanly arranged upon counter and shelf. He carries in stock all the good things yet known to the confectioner's art, and as we can vouch, sells them much cheaper than most people. Everybody in this world wants some of the "sweets of life," and we know of no one in northern Ohio who can supply them in greater abundance for a smaller deposit of change than Mr. Clement. Candies of every description, fruits from every clime, and the finest confections yet discovered are kept in great variety by him. He is enthusiastic in his efforts in keeping the best of everything in his line, and all who are familiar with his place know that he has the faculty of pleasing the people.

Clement, in his efforts to conduct a business of this kind, most assuredly deserves the greatest encouragement possible, and we believe an appreciative people will give it to him. [25t2

Very Desirable

Presents are practical and useful, while a Swan fountain pen possesses those merits to such a degree that we warrant every pen sold for one year. Holding the Marion county agency, we are protected by the manufacturers in guaranteeing each and every pen put out.

We have pens adapted for all hands, such as short and long nibs, coarse, medium and fine points, stubs and gold mounted, and will cheerfully exchange after Christmas any pens which may not prove suited to the person's hand.

We consider this the best pen on the market today, while the warrant we give and the number sold prove conclusive that they possess great merit, and the price we quote is very attractive. For sale only at C. G. Wiant's.
